Examples of sustainability programs that businesses may choose to pursue are Ecotourism Certification, Sustainable Winegrowing Australia certification, NASAA organic certification, bCorps certification, ISO 14001, etc. Training costs are eligible where this training will help the applicant get closer towards certification.

2. Activation of designated public spaces. Activating public spaces through mini-events, performances, or artistic projects helps draw people into town centres and can lead to positive economic outcomes.

Achievability (25%)

The applicant can demonstrate the feasibility of the proposed initiative and their capability to successfully deliver the initiative.

Value for money (25%)

Broad benefit (25%)

Priority 1: Certification – the accreditation being sought will contribute to the sustainability story of the region.
