

Additional Information

Starting our own small business in Witchcliffe has certainly shown us the challenges involved and the work and time and effort that a lot of people are putting in to make it all work. The current new housing developments also highlight our changing community and challenges and opportunities that will come with this. Our access to nature in this region is second to none and I think one of the key reasons why we all live here. I won't pretend to have all the answers but I will try and listen and find the right people who can help us all go forward together. M
